

2018 Herman and Edith Wildman
Public Interest and Social Justice Law
Writing Award Application

The Herman and Edith Wildman Writing Award will be given to the best student essay on a Public Interest and Social Justice Law topic. Students are encouraged to submit papers written for a class, law review, or other purpose any time between Spring Semester 2017 and Spring Semester 2018.

The Herman and Edith Wildman Writing Award honors the memory of Herman Wildman, 1912-2002, who practiced law in New York and California, and the memory of Edith Wildman, 1921-2015, a teacher and librarian. The 2018 winner or winners will receive an honorarium and a certificate. Available funds could support two awards of $1000 each; the actual awards will depend partly on the number and quality of submissions. Papers will be judged by Santa Clara faculty members who did not supervise the writing project.

Your Name _____

Address _____

Phone _____ Year of Graduation _____

E-mail Address _____

Please submit the Following with this form:

1. Three copies of your essay with no name identification.
2. A two-to-five sentence synopsis of the paper:

3. The name of the writing supervisor or course instructor. If you had no supervisor or course instructor, please explain.
4. Optional: a nomination letter from the writing supervisor or course instructor.

Submission deadline: noon on Friday, April 13, 2018. Submissions should be left in a sealed envelope with Kerrie Bindi in room 215 in Charney Hall.